

Dog Treats

handmade 🐾 all natural

Adventure Days Dog Treats is a small, family owned business located just North of Seattle, Washington. We make all of our treats by hand, in small batches, using human grade whole food ingredients to ensure the highest quality.

Our treats are always grain and soy free, additionally we have four flavors that are animal protein free (Vegan) for those pooches with protein sensitivities.

We sell our treats at the historic Pike Place Market and other local farmer's markets throughout the area. We count on our growing group of loyal customers across the country to spread the word about our treats.

If you are reading this flyer, then you have a customer who has a pet that loves our treats and I'm sure they're not alone.

If you are interested in carrying our product or would like to know more, please feel free to call or email us.

Thank you for supporting our small business!

Sincerely,
McKinley, Melody & Russell Price
